DR. LAFFERTY SUED.

HE ASKS FOR AN INJUNCTION.

and City-Hall Matters Generally

Court yesterday by Rev. Dr. J. J. Lafferty, editor of the Christian Advocate, ing that W. S. Hardison be enjoined and restrained from prosecuting a certain suit instituted by Hardison against the Doctor. The original controversy grew out of a transaction involving services of en belonging to him, and which Dr. Lafferty got the benefit of.

The claim put in by Hardison for these items was $1.20, and it was protested by Dr. Lafferty. Arbitration was finally agreed to, and the arbiters relected were Dr. W. J. Jones, J. H. Warden, and Rev. Dr. R. N. Sleed. These gentlemen looked into the matter, and in their finding awarded Hardison $349.

Dr. Lafferty claimed that he had paid comployee of the Belle Isle works. awarded Hardison $349.

Hardison more than the articles in quesion were worth, and he bitterly oppose the award of the arbiters, asking that the matter be reopened. At that time, according to Dr. Lafferty's bill of yesterday, cording to Dr. Lafferty's bill of yesterday. Dr. Siedd said that the case had not been fully investigated, and all the arbiters agreed to reopen, but Hardison objected, and the committee decided that they had no right to reopen. Dr. Lafferty gave notice of his purpose to fight this award, and demanded that Hardison file the same in the Circuit Court of Albemarke as the submission required, when the Doctor would protest against it. But Hardison instead brought charges against Dr. Lafferty in the Methodist Church. The charges were dismissed. Hardison then brought suit in the Court of Law and Equity, laying his damage at $600. Hence the petition for an injunction.

WHAT DR. LAFFERTY CLAIMS.

WHAT DR. LAFFERTY CLAIMS. WHAT DR. LAFFERTY CLAIMS.
The bill of Dr. Lafferty goes into the details of the controversy. It says that it 1892 Hardison applied to Dr. Lafferty for work at the latter's mill at Crozet, in Albemarle county, and was given work at $1.25 per day, and boarding at Dr. Lafferty's own table. The new employee, while at work, had a spell of sickness, at Dr. Lafferty's house.

Subsequently, the recital continues, Hardison said that he had a lot of sawmill material in North Carolina which he proposed that Dr. Lafferty should send for and purchase such of it as he could for and purchase such of it as he could use. The Doctor advanced the money to pay freight charges, and the material was taken to Crozet, together with ee yoke of poor oxen, the property of Hardison.

Dr. Lafferty used a part of the material, and agreed to pay for it, but it was he contends, not worth more than $50. Upon the material and the oxen he advanced $200, with the understanding that Hardison would refund the same. GOT MORE MONEY.

GOT MORE MONEY.

The bill continues by averring that during all this time Hardison made no claim whatever upon Dr. Lafferty, but afterwards came to Richmend and told Dr. Lafferty's son that the Doctor proposed to give him two or three hundred dollars for the stuff, and drew $120 on account. The Doctor was indignant when he heard this, and recites that Hardison went to his room at the Exchange Hotel, fell on the bed and wept, declared that he meant no harm, and begged for money.

Hardison is being represented by Mr. Hugh Antrim, while Colonel Meade Haskins is Dr. Lafferty's counsel in the priginal case, Colonel Jo. Lane Stern is suing out the injunction for him. out the injunction for him.

Arguing the Railroad Case. Purther argument was heard yesterday by Judge Minor in the Powhatan and Farmville railroad receiver case. Messrs. Pegram & Stringfellow spoke in behalf of the railroad, and Messrs. Edmund Waddill and A. B. Dickerson argued for the plainitis, who are praying for the appointment of a receiver. The argument was not concluded, and will be resumed this afternoon at 4 o'clock. It involves some new evidence in the case.

Sit.-Your letter of the 17th instant, with a letter of William M. Coulling, agent for several tobacco manufacturers in your district, relative to caution notice on packages of cigarettes for exportation, has been received.

It is understood that Mr. Coulling desires, on behalf of his clients, that permission be accorded to them to omit the ceution notice from the packages intended for export, similar to the sample for warded, which appears to be capable of containing ten cigarettes, and to have such caution notice affixed to the outer box or case containing these packages.

In reply, you are informed that this office sees no objection to having the eaution notice as to cigarettes put up for export, and actually exported, affixed as desired Respectfully yours, etc.
